

Fran Targett

I am passionate about sustaining a vibrant voluntary sector for the health and wellbeing of Wales and have spent my whole voluntary and working life in the sector. I have encouraged collaboration and co-production, have active links to Welsh Government, the voluntary sector and the wider political infrastructure in Wales and the UK which I use to support WCVA strategies. The next few years will be tough for the sector and for our country, I bring commitment and experience to maintain WCVA's focus on Making a Bigger Difference Together.

I have volunteered within WCVA since 2002 and have consistently supported change and modernisation. I also offer the continuity and organisational memory which is vital to a successful organisation. Since retiring as Director of Citizens Advice Cymru I have committed more time to WCVA and helped lead the following work:

- Helpforce Cymru – co-produced Framework for volunteering in health and social care
- Better Futures Wales – driving sustainable, green and just ways of working to support communities
- Social Investment Cymru – supporting the development of loans-based funding
- Economic Activity Panel – supporting the staff team deliver the Active Inclusion Funding
- Advising on widening access and increasing diversity to recruit the next WCVA Chair
