

Make a bigger difference together

Becoming a WCVA trustee

WCVA trustee election 2022

WCVA's board is made up of friendly and passionate individuals with a wide range of experiences, skills and backgrounds. We have five vacancies on our board and so we're now looking for people from different backgrounds and with a range of skills and lived experiences to join our board.

Whatever your background or experience, develop your skills, widen your network and help us make a bigger difference together by joining our board of trustees.

People in Wales have always come together voluntarily, not for money or because the law tells them to, but because they want to make a difference.

But when the Depression and poverty hit Wales hard in the 1930s people realised their organisations weren't ready to meet the challenges around them. To make a bigger difference they needed to come together, organise and look ahead to prepare for the future.

That's why WCVA was formed. And it's why we exist today.... Read more.

Trustees are the independent volunteers that govern a charity. Becoming a trustee is a serious commitment but can also be extremely rewarding.

Along with the rest of the trustee board you will have a legal responsibility for the management of our charity, but you'll also work together with the board and senior management team to make decisions that will help us make a real difference in Wales and beyond.

The role of trustee is unpaid, but we offer expenses to meet travel costs.

What we're looking for

No experience necessary!

You don't need to have previous trustee experience to join our board, we'll provide all the training and support you need.

We're looking for people from different backgrounds and with a range of skills and experiences.

The next page shows a list of skills we're particularly interested in, but these are just a guide and not essential.

Our skills wish list

We're particularly interested in people with some skills in the following areas, but these are by no means a requirement of applying:

- Charity governance
- Finance (all trustees will be required to have a minimal understanding of charity accounts but we offer excellent training and support to help you with this)
- Volunteer recruitment and support
- Social investment and enterprise
- Membership development
- Equalities and human rights
- Research
- Legal
- Digital
- IT systems
- Data / information management

We've set ourselves ambitious goals for the next five years and we want to take action now to create a future where voluntary organisations and volunteering thrive across Wales, improving wellbeing for all.

To succeed our sector will need to be diverse, ready for change and to be equal partners in improving wellbeing in Wales.

But we know we can't do it alone, we need a diverse board of trustees leading our work and helping us to make the change we want to see...

Vision

A future where voluntary organisations and volunteering thrive across Wales, improving wellbeing for all

Our focus on diversity

We're focussed on enabling voluntary organisations in Wales to be more diverse, reflecting the communities they serve.

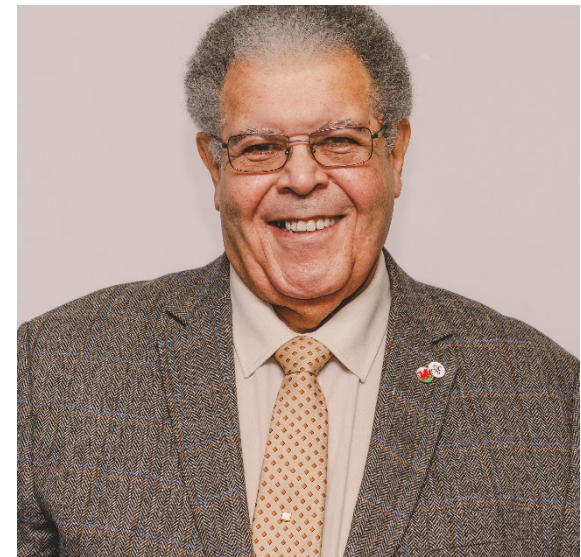

We're also committed to lead by example and work to ensure WCVA is more diverse. We are committed to being as inclusive as possible and we want as many different voices as possible on our board.

We are seeking trustees with a wide range of experiences. Whatever your background we would love to hear from you.

Working with WCVA on EDI

‘Since being involved as a trustee with WCVA, I have seen first-hand the commitment shown by trustees and staff within the organisation. I sit on the EDI [Equality Diversity & Inclusion] working group which has representatives from trustees, management and staff and I am amazed at the commitment that is shown and best practices I see from the bottom to the top to ensure that WCVA reflects the communities that they work with.

‘I am committed to working with WCVA on EDI to add whatever help and expertise I can give to continue to make WCVA an even more inclusive organisation than it is already.’

Edward Watts MBE DL, WCVA Trustee

Why board diversity is important to us

A note from Samantha
Carpenter, our Equality,
Diversity and Inclusion
Officer

‘Wide-ranging and diverse lived experiences of any board of trustees is vital in ensuring that the voice of everyone we serve is heard. This is why we need our trustees to have the widest range of backgrounds possible.

‘We are especially interested in receiving nominations for younger people, people with a disability, transgender and gender non-conforming people, people from Black, Asian and minority ethnic backgrounds and those from the bisexual, lesbian and gay plus community.

‘This isn’t to say that others cannot succeed, so long as you are passionate about the needs of everyone, whatever their backgrounds.’

What's in it for you?

Develop your skills, widen your network and help us make a bigger difference together by joining our board of trustees. You will...

- Work with a range of passionate people from all walks of life and make connections to enhance your personal and professional development
- Have the opportunity to use your skills and share your unique experiences in new ways and to make positive change in Wales
- Drive our charitable aims and help us advocate for and empower the inspiring organisations that make up Wales' voluntary sector

What I get out of being a WCVA trustee

Lindsay Cordery-Bruce, WCVA trustee and CEO of homelessness charity,
The Wallich

‘I really love being a trustee at WCVA – they’re a great team and an inspiring organisation. For me trusteeship isn’t just about governance, it’s about impact.

‘When I started in the charity sector, at full case load I could help around 40 families at a time. As a CEO I can now help around 7,000 families.

‘If you scale that up to supporting the entire charity sector – the potential positive impact on communities is mind-blowing!

‘That’s what WCVA does – they strengthen every third sector organisation in Wales. It’s a privilege to be part of that.’

Giving your time as a trustee

As a trustee we ask you to commit your time to:

- One trustee induction day
- Four formal board meetings in person (but you can attend online too) – around two hours per meeting
- Four board working group meetings per year, online – around one and a half hours per meeting

Successful candidates will normally be appointed for a three-year term and can serve a maximum of nine years.

If you're interested in joining our board this year, there are a few things you need to do:

1. You need to be supported by two WCVA members – we call this nominated and seconded. Don't worry if you don't know any members – we can connect you with some
2. Once we've received your nomination from a WCVA member we'll ask you to send us some information about yourself. We want to know what skills and experience you would bring to the board (two pages maximum). If you have a CV then that would also be useful – but it is not essential. We also ask for two references....

3. Finally, as you are now a nominee, we need a short statement (200 words maximum) and a photo that we can put on our website. Your statement should answer the question: 'Why should WCVA members vote for me to be a trustee?'

You can send your information as a video or audio recording if you'd prefer.

We will also ask you to complete an equal opportunities monitoring questionnaire to help us understand more about who we are reaching.

What happens next?

The deadline for nominations and candidate statements is 9 September 2022.

We will post candidate statements and photos on our website during the week commencing 19 September 2022.

Our members will vote for their preferred candidates in our ballot which takes place 24 October – 4 November 2022.

Candidates will be notified of the results of the ballot week commencing 7 November 2022.
