

Jainaba Conteh

Why should WCVA members vote for me to be a trustee?

WCVA members should vote for me to be a trustee because I bring a unique blend of technical expertise, policy experience, and a strong commitment to promoting diversity and innovation. My background in Medical Biochemistry and Chemical Engineering, coupled with my extensive experience in policy analysis, project management, and collaboration with various stakeholders, equips me to contribute effectively to WCVA's mission.

Throughout my career, I have demonstrated a consistent ability to solve complex problems, whether in academic research, where I developed sustainable solutions for upcycling plastics, or in policy work, where I have influenced Welsh Government consultations and organized impactful forums. My experience working with diverse communities, such as supporting Ukrainian refugee families in securing housing and promoting diversity within the environmental sector and outdoor activities, highlights my dedication to social justice and equality.

As a young professional passionate about creating positive change, I am eager to bring fresh perspectives to WCVA's board. I am committed to ensuring that the voluntary sector in Wales thrives, is inclusive, and reflects the communities it serves and promote the Wellbeing of Future Generations Act in Wales.